FRIDAY FOCUS

The close of the school year is a good time to look at data points. Doing so allows us to get rooted in objective information and engage in the process of evaluating the relationship between practice and performance / outcomes. I want to share these data points with you and hope that they generate conversations, questions, and reflections at home. If at any point you wish to share your thoughts with me this summer, please do reach out so that we may connect. Please do expect, among other communications, your child(ren)'s NWEA and NH SAS reports to come home with their report cards next week; 6th and 7th graders on Thursday and 8th graders on Tuesday. The former is a district-based diagnostic assessment that we utilize to inform instruction over the course of the school year for students while the latter is the state-based summative assessment that indicates the proficiency level of students against grade-level standards.

Be well, Justin Krieger - Principal
